

125 Main Street Reading, MA 01867
781-670-9990 (p) 781-670-9939 (f)

Brent R. Goldstein P.E. - Bio

Brent is a registered Professional Engineer in 9 states. He has been a practicing structural engineer for 33 years. A graduate of the University of Massachusetts/Amherst, he also holds a Masters Degree in Structural Engineering from Worcester Polytechnic Institute where he specialized in tall building design. Formally a principal at McNamara/Salvia, Inc. in Boston, he co-founded Goldstein-Milano LLC in 2005. He is a published author and former instructor at WPI. His design and construction experience encompasses dozens of new and renovation building projects of all shapes and sizes including some of the most complicated in New England including Two International Place and 500 Atlantic Avenue in Boston and the Providence Place Mall in Rhode Island.

He currently provides detailed project level attention to all the work under his direction as a Principal at GM-SE.

Christopher P. Milano P.E. - Bio

Chris is a registered Professional Engineer in 15 states. He has been a practicing structural engineer for 33 years. A graduate of the University of New Hampshire, he also holds a Masters Degree in Structural Engineering from Northeastern University. Formally a principal at McNamara/Salvia, Inc. in Boston, he co-founded Goldstein-Milano LLC in 2005. His design and construction experience encompasses dozens of new and renovation building projects of all shapes and sizes. He has substantial experience in the medical field including design of several Proton Therapy Centers around the country.

He currently provides detailed project level attention to all the work under his direction as a Principal at GM-SE.